Ship ahoy for Dogs Trust charity music event

EVERYONE is invited to a free music event in Leigh-on-Sea.

Organisers said the show will have the best singers, bands and DJs on both floors of the Ship pub on Saturday, October 10.

It is being hosted by Southend musicians David Woodcock and Wendy Solomon from 7pm to 1am.

Music lovers can see popular acts Nathan Abbott, Howling Black Soul, David Woodcock, 4 & 20 Blackbirds, Micky Denny, Angel and the Melodyhorns, The Hillmisters, Bob Collum, Private Trousers and New Subjects along with Podophobia DJs.

Wendy and David said they are hosting the event to raise money for the Southend branch of Dogs Trust.

Wendy said: "We thought we would celebrate our dog Barkley's first birthday and raise money for the charity. Lots of local businesses have donated super prizes for a raffle such as a meal for two with drinks from Oldhams Chip Shop, a massage worth £40 from Sarah Yapp Therapies, a meal for two from Sara's Tea Gardens, coffee and cake from Nook Coffee Shop and Carousel coffee shop, vouchers from Bubbles Pet Shop and Fives Records plus lots more to be confirmed."

Representatives from Dogs Trust will be there and the event is on Facebook – check out Dogtober.

FIRST FOR SPEED TRIAL

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

SOUTHCHURCH could be the first area in Essex to trial a 20mph traffic calming scheme on roads around schools.

The speed reduction scheme is currently being considered by Southend Council on roads where the speeds are 30mph.

Councillor Derek Kenyon (Independent, Southchurch) is backing the scheme. He said: "We have pushed for Southchurch as Ladram Road is where Bourne's Green School is based, and is continuously used as a rat-run."

"Cars hurtle through here – it's ridiculous and very dangerous.

"If this scheme is successful, it will be rolled out across the borough for the school roads."

Head teacher of Bourne Green School, Terry Cornelius, told the YA he fully backed a speed reduction scheme.

He said: "The safety of our children is of paramount importance and parking around the school, on bends in the road, cause it to be hazardous at speeds of 30mph.

"The introduction of a 20mph zone would assist us in safeguarding our children and we would welcome an introduction of this speed restriction."

The scheme will be discussed at Southend Council's next meeting on October 22.

Residents' appeal for more to join crime fight team

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

A CRIME prevention group is calling for more volunteers.

Southend's Neighbourhood Watch issued a rallying cry, insisting the more people who join the scheme, the more effective crime prevention becomes.

Essex Neighbourhood Watch liaison officer, Kevin Blake said the Prittlewell group had built a fantastic relationship with their local policing team.

He said: "The group has also built a close community spirit which was not there before."

"Residents who would have previously walked past each other in the street, now look out for each other, with a number of success stories behind them."

Mr Blake urged residents to sign up to the Essex Community Messaging (ECM).

Mr Blake said: "With less officers on our streets, please support Essex Police by signing up to Essex Community Messaging (ECM)."

"Police will be able to tell you what is happening in your area, plus receive crime prevention advice off the back of area alerts, all from the comfort of your own home - no meetings to attend."

Southend neighbourhood watch co-ordinator, Lini Kilpatrick said she finds ECM invaluable.

She said anyone who signs up can receive information by email, text or voice message.

The ECM facility can also select issues of special interest such as scams, internet crime and specify which area (ie school, work, and/or where you live).

Ms Kilpatrick said: "ECM users will also be able to be kept informed of burglaries that have happened in their area, backed up with crime prevention advice."

To sign up to ECM visit www.essex.police.uk/contact\_us/essex\_community\_messaging.aspx

To find out more, call Mr Blake on 101, 0300 333 4444 or 07931 731105 or email kevin.blake@Essex.pnn.police.uk

To meet police teams (LCM's) and local community meetings at events called street meets, visit www.essex.police.uk (for dates and times.)

CONGRATULATIONS: Head of science, Mark O'Flaherty, head teacher Stuart Reynolds and deputy head Ray Lawrence

College wins top award for outstanding results

A SOUTHEND college has been given a prestigious award for its outstanding exam results.

Staff at Futures Community College Southchurch Boulevard received the award at London's prestigious Guildhall.

Headteacher Stuart Reynolds and staff were given the PiXL award because of the excellent GCSE results achieved by pupils this year. PiXL is a group of about almost 1,000 schools nationwide that share good practice and training.

The school was recognised for the percentage increase in 5A*-C including English and maths.

Mr Reynolds said: "The award is testament to the hard work of teachers and students of Futures Community College in raising standards and expectations."

● AN elderly man was left with serious injuries following a hit and run in Westcliff.

The 80-year-old was involved in a collision with a car, believed to be a silver Astra saloon in Bridgewater Drive. The driver failed to stop after the incident which happened at around 8.45am on September 23.

The man was taken to hospital with injuries to his head and arm.

Contact Pc Myles Hilbery at Laindon RPU on 101.

● POLICE are appealing for witnesses to a road accident involving a bus and a pedestrian.

The pedestrian, a 62-year-old woman from Shoeburyness, remains in the Royal London Hospital in a critical condition.

The collision happened shortly after 9.55am on September 14 in Chichester Road, Southend.

Pc Lance Hutchin said: "We would particularly like to speak to the person who was seen to put their bag down on the floor before assisting at the scene, and may have information that can help us with our enquiries." ## COMPETITION

Win family tickets to Marsh Farm's Wizards & Witches

Keep little monsters amused at half-term

MARSH Farm's Wizards & Witches, which runs from October 24 to 31, will be offering some spooktacular fun for the whole family.

To help you keep your little monsters entertained during the half-term holiday we are giving away 10 family tickets to join in with all the fun.

Meet Cello the wizard as he searches the farm for missing potion ingredients for his trick or treat spell, enjoy some story-telling with Winifred the Witch and take part in some Halloween craft activities.

You can also meet spooky – but not scary – characters around the farm and take on the Spell-makers Challenge trail.

What's more, the education farm in South Woodham Ferrers will be adding a freaky twist to some of the farmyard favourites, so make sure you join the Monster Magic and Mayhem Show, the Spooktacular Birds of Prey Display, and Ghoulsh

GHOULS ALOUD: Children in fancy dress at Marsh Farm

Championsheeps Live and "Get Freaky with the Flock" with Shaun the Sheep.

As well as all the usual fun of the farm, no Halloween would be complete without a free pumpkin for every child at the new Pumpkin Patch.

Dig up your own pumpkin at the educational activity that will help children learn about the "farm to fork" journey that food makes.

For more information and tickets to Wizards & Witches Week, which include entry to the Pumpkin Patch and cost £11.50 on the door or £9.99 online, with free entry for the under-tuos, visit www.marshfarm.co.uk.

To win one of 10 family tickets valid on any one day of Wizard & Witches Week, just answer the following question.

Q: What is the name of Marsh Farm's story- telling witch?

A: Winifred the Witch
B: Wendy the Witch
C: Wanda the Witch

To enter the competition telephone your answer – A, B or C – to (0901 307 1687) along with your name, address, telephone number and email.

Alternatively text YAWITCH (space) followed by A, B or C, and your name, full address and email to 63333.

Calls cost 50p per call plus your phone company's access charge. Calls from mobiles will cost considerably more.

Texts cost 50p plus your standard network rates. If you do not wish to receive details on any other products or services, please text EXIT at the end of your message.

Bowlers set sights on new clubhouse

MEMBERS of a bowling club established in 1931 are hoping to get a new clubhouse.

Southchurch Park Bowling Club has spoken to Southend Council about its hopes of bulldozing the old restroom and replacing it with a new structure.

The club will be applying to Sport England for financial help towards the proposed building.

Club secretary Rob Abrahams said: "The clubhouse is looking very tired and is showing signs of age. We have been talking to the council about getting a replacement."

"It has been approved subject to budgetary regulations and planning permission.

"We will also be making an application to Sport England for a grant."

Southchurch Park Bowling Club holds a series of friendly matches and is represented in four leagues – The Parren, The Beharrel, Group six and the Tuesday Morning League.

In 2009, the club won the Parren Shield – the senior competition for the Southend Parks Circles League.

Southchurch Park was presented to the town in 1895 by three landowners, Messrs Baxter, Dowsett and Ingram.

The bowling club is one of many recreational areas at the park with sports and play equipment.

The club welcomes new members.

Harvest festival to help the homeless

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

A HARVEST festival will be held for the homeless this month.

Southend homeless charity Harp is encouraging residents part with one or more items from their cupboards for their harvest festival collection.

Gary Turner who runs Harp told the YA the food will be given to vulnerable homeless people across the borough.

He said the food will be particularly useful now as homeless charities across Southend are now starting to face extra pressure with winter on its way.

Harp boss, Gary Turner told the YA there were people sleeping in alley ways, on the cliffs and on the beaches.

He said: "We meet up and help people from all sorts of situations. "At our Bradbury Centre, in York Road, there are 18 beds for rough sleepers.

"We provide people with food, a shower and a change of clothes.

"It's not just a night shelter there is counselling for people with addictions and other problems."

The charity need food along with basic items such as toothpaste, shampoo, shower gel, disposable razors and so on.

Donations can be made between 9am to 3.30pm, Monday to Friday at the Bradbury Centre, 103-107 York Road, Southend-on-Sea SS1 2DL

If you want to make a financial donation to Harp, visit www.harpsouthend.org/#!/donate-money-to-harp/c1qn6

Family flee tent on nature reserve

A FAMILY who fled their Shoebury home because of financial difficulties has now been forced to flee the tent they called home pitched on a nature reserve.

The family of four had been living in a large tent for the last two months on Two Tree Island, Leigh On Sea.

But on Wednesday, they told the YA they had to pack up and leave the beauty spot because of "constant intrusions" from passers-by.

One worried family member who did not wish to be named said the family had "no idea where they were going to go."

Southend Council said it would work with the family in a bid to find a solution to their homeless problem.

Southend Council leader Ron Woodley said: "We were aware of a family camping out at Two Tree Island. Our

INTRUSIONS: The family were living in this tent on Two Tree Island but are now being helped by the council outreach team is engaging with this family who are all adults. Accommodation has been found for one person, and we are continuing to explore options with the other members of the family."

Swim star Mark makes a splash for the homeless

TWO BIG EVENTS: Harp supporters will endure a sleep out for the homeless charity and will be joined by Mark Foster shaking tins

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

SHOPPERS in Leigh Broadway may be stopped in their tracks by Olympic swimmer Mark Foster who will be raising money for the homeless.

Mark, who is from Southend, will be asking shoppers to dig deep and donate to Harp homeless charity.

Mark competed in five Olympics before retiring and had an award-winning partnership with Clare Balding broadcasting from the aquatics centre during the Olympics in 2012.

He will be shaking tins with Niqui Denckmayer and volunteers from local churches.

Niqui, who organised the event on behalf of St Helen's Church, Leigh-on-Sea, said she was thrilled Mark was helping the borough's most vulnerable.

Harp bosses said they were thrilled with the church's consistent and long-term fundraising efforts to end rough sleeping in Southend by 2018.

The collection takes place on Saturday October 10 is being held to honour world homeless day.

Niqui added: "We have volunteers

SUPPORTER: Foster carrying the Olympic torch in 2012

helping out from St Helen's church, St Peter's Catholic Church and Our Lady of Lourdes church. We will be standing on both sides of the road outside St Clement's church near the Princes Diana crossing.

"We hope to see as many people as possible and are praying for fine weather."

Harp project worker Prakesh

Shah said homelessness can be a terrifying ordeal. He told the YA that people sometimes fear they won't wake up while others are beaten and abused.

The fund-raising activity follows on from a 12 hour card board box sleep out at Southend High School for Boys in Prittlewell Chase which takes place on Friday evening.

SUCCESS: Pupils join Helen Boyd, chair of governors, Southend Mayor Cllr Andrew Moring and head Pauline Lucas to cut the ribbon to celebrate the merger

Merging schools is top class idea

PUPILS are thriving and flourishing following the merger of an infant and a junior school in Southend.

Leigh North Street primary and juniors merged following a council policy to encourage infants and junior schools to be run from the same site.

The policy was introduced after government research showed children perform better when they are not forced to move between schools at the age of seven.

Head teacher Pauline Lucas said: "The opening of Leigh

North Street Primary School is the beginning of an exciting new journey for both pupils and staff. With continued support from governors, parents and the local community I believe the school will go from strength to strength in the future."

Cllr Anne Jones, said the merger was the right step for both schools and would benefit the community. She said: "I am delighted that the new primary school is now open."

"This project has been the right step as it will benefit the local community that this school serves, and help to secure sustained and on-going improvement from an already strong base.

"The executive headteacher has an excellent track record and knows the children well, so is well placed to oversee the management of the pupil progress."

"She and her team have had excellent results at the separate infant and junior schools and I am confident that they will successfully lead the new primary school forward."

FREE FILM: Movie fans at the screening of Day of The Dead last year

By Suzi Muston

southend@yellowad.co.uk

ONE of the finest, most influential, successful and scary horror films ever made – Halloween – is coming to Southend.

It will be shown on a giant pop-up cinema screen for free on Saturday, October 31 for Halloween at The Royals.

Since its original release in 1978, the film has been hailed as the ultimate stalk-and-slash movie.

The film's plot revolves around a Halloween night in 1963 when six-year-old Michael inexplicably murders his teenage sister with a large knife. Fifteen years later, Michael escapes and returns to his hometown of Haddonfield, Illinois, looking for his next victim.

More than 200 souls will be able to see the film seated in deckchairs.

Royals shopping centre manager Dawn Jeakings said: "The 1978 chiller is not for the faint-hearted, so it's strictly over-18s only. There will be a few surprises for the audience too."

Organisers of Southend's annual film and Horror-on-Sea festivals, The White Bus, are putting on the event with the shopping centre.

Although the event is free, spaces will be allocated on a first come, first served basis.

Doors open at 7.30pm and the film starts at 8pm.

Dawn added: "Halloween is a terrifically scary film in its own right but, of course, we aim to have some extra shocks in store."

"We want people to come in fancy dress and the best two costumes will win a pair of weekend passes to the Horror-On-Sea Film Festival."

"Earlier in the day there's a chance for youngsters to dress up as witches and vampires, enjoy face-painting, singing, dancing, plus arts and crafts sessions."

The children's day runs from 11am to 3pm.

For more information visit the Royals Facebook page, go to royalsshoppingcentre.co.uk or follow @Royalsshopping on Twitter.

Joe's a switched on apprentice...

WINNER: Joe Mander in ITV's control room

A CANVEY student has started an apprenticeship with ITN - after he saw the opportunity advertised on Facebook.

Joe Mander, a media student from South Essex College is one of just eight chosen out of 850 hopefuls, and is now involved in producing programmes enjoyed by millions on ITV, Channel 4 and Channel 5.

The 18-year-old studied a creative media production television and film extended diploma and received distinctions in all subjects.

He said: "I still can't believe it, it's a dream come true to be working for such a big company and it's great to put the skills I gained at the college to the test."

Joe often works in the ITV News studio where he learns from the floor manager, the director and sound and lighting directors.

He also spends time in the editing suites as well as filming footage on site for news stories.

Once the apprenticeship programme has finished, Joe said that he is hopeful he will be taken on full-time to continue his career in the media industry.

Corbyn shows British values

JEREMY Corbyn's first Labour Party conference speech as leader has been criticised for speaking to a converted audience and not reaching out to an unbelieving nation at large in a way that will be needed to ensure the next Labour government.

Surely the language of an atheist – with a lot of time for religion because he was brought up in a religious home – of Labour's new leader using two powerful biblical analogies of “not walking by on the other side of the street” and “doing to others as you would have done to yourself” in relation to refugees and doing politics decently in general is more far-reaching than a Brighton hotel conference centre in the way of such things?

Indeed, ending his speech with a reference to Labour's first leader Keir Hardie famously summarising his own job description 100 years ago as “stirring up divine discontent against wrong” – surely clinches it.

Proof enough – for any religiously doubting Thomases – that the Labour Party's brand of socialism has always historically owed much more to Christ than to Marx and still does?

British values at their best.

Thanks for donating to Guide Dogs

ON behalf of Southend & District branch of the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association I would like to thank the members of the general public who so generously donated to Guide Dogs at the flag day in High Street on Saturday, September 12.

The total raised was £1,079.42, all of which will go towards the ongoing training and support of the work of the association in providing guide dogs for the visually impaired.

Thanks also to all the volunteers who so generously gave their time to enable this amount to be collected.

Anne Pressling (Secretary)

Strange take on refugee issue

I READ in horror about aircraft engineer Mark Prenderville's treatment at the Queen Elizabeth, The Queen Mother Hospital in Margate last week.

He seems a decent young man who is loyal to his Queen and country. She would be proud of him.

Unlike these so-called refugees, mostly young men, who are quite willing to leave their families at home to face the music alone with the excuse “to seek a better life”.

I see them as cowards.

Then you read about Arash Aria, from Iran, who doesn't like it here now and wants to go home.

If he and his like are offended by the uniform of the RAF, what are they doing here?

Perhaps they should take a leaf out of Arash's book.

It's our patriotism that keeps Britain great.

Mrs M Haunts
Thundersley

Charity begins at home

I WRITE in support of Kim Gandy of Rayleigh.

Read her letter carefully as I have several times and she is completely right in all she has written.

I have also read the letter from Cllr Gavin Callaghan praising Catholic priest Fr Dominic Howarth several times and have to agree with Kim Gandy.

Fr Dominic's obsession and misguided compassion is making the situation worse. Most of us want to be generous without encouraging further flaws and without damaging our own country.

Britain is already struggling. That's why I believe David Cameron's head not heart philosophy is right. When your house is full you close the door, but if people continue to knock and shout and scream to come in what do you do?

Terrorists are passing as refugees using other people's children to gain entry into Europe. Once they are here they will form sleeper cells, waiting to cause mayhem in the countries that take them.

Germany has closed its borders and we must close ours. I see Fr Dominic is returning to Calais. Who looks after his parishioners and the needy of his parish while he is away? Charity begins at home.

No doubt he will have his name and photo in the YA again.

The finest acts of kindness go unseen. I am a disabled pensioner but I do what I can for my brothers and sisters in need.

I don't need to travel to Calais to find the needy.

Jonathan Fieldson
Basildon

How do you prove it's a minority?

THE letter from Cllr Callaghan (YA, September 25) praising the work of the local Catholic priest in taking supplies to Calais deserves a calculated response.

He claims that it is only a “vocal minority” objecting to the mass migration both legal and illegal into this country.

Just what is his basis for such an assertion? What polling institute has done a credible study to ascertain the views of the majority?

Judging by my study of local radio phone-ins and newspaper correspondence columns it would seem that it is the minority of people that wish to open the gates and allow untrammelled migration to this country.

He uses, as all without a valid argument will, the death of a child as a club with which to beat us. He claims that the only difference is the child was born in Syria, not Southend.

Not so, the difference is that the Syrian child had a father, who having extricated his family from a position he considered dangerous, and having lived safely in Turkey for around a year, took his family aboard a small boat to cross the Mediterranean and died as a result of the father's actions in trying to breach border controls.

I venture to suggest that trying to put the guilt onto us, is at least disingenuous and at worst shows dishonesty typical of those on the left of politics.

He praises the Catholic priest for his actions in taking supplies to those in Calais, determined to force their wishes upon us and allow them to live in our country.

I for one see beyond the humanitarian aspect of the actions and view it as active encouragement for the illegal actions which are already disrupting legal business and commercial activities of this country.

Perhaps he and Cllr Callaghan should be reminded of the old adage: The road to hell is paved with good intentions.

Perhaps that is the message which should go to the nonentities claiming to be Basildon's political leaders.

The Phantom of Fobbing

NOTHING lasts forever. To this day, home owners are finding and removing tiny bottles of urine and hair, hidden in the walls of old Fobbing houses hundreds of years ago to keep out bad spirits.

I can't vouch for the power of witchcraft, but admit to feeling it, having walked to a phantom waterway from Pitsea Station, on Tuesday.

Fobbing Creek was dyked and drained after the 1953 great flood claimed 58 lives at Canvey.

The tidal channel once serviced the port at the end of what is now Mr and Mrs Stubbs' sunken garden, in Wharf Road.

Hiking the seawall, spirits of a nautical past fill my head. Bullrushes bend in the waterless, windy shallows, and I imagine Thames Barges floating up creek towards St Michael's Church. Like an itch on an amputated leg, the trappings of tide, flood the subconscious of the land, helped by the fact that this is still salt marsh.

Male dragonflies – blood-red with autumn rage – flick around the sloes and hawthorn like tired, old men looking for a warm place to rest before dying. Yellow ragwort runs over the pasture that has grown thick in the silt. Brown hares and pheasants zig-zag behind mounds that were once home to crabs and bass.

Walking east from Wharf Road, the nearest waterline is a 1.4-mile hike. Dumper-trucks bleep from Pitsea Tip, reversing on the easterly breeze from across Hole Haven Creek. The towers of DP World Port and the Shell Haven refinery climb to the south. A man-made edgeland: where wild meets west.

Strings of pylon carry power north-east to Hockley, their ugliness pacified by thousands of noisy starlings roosting in the steel as the sun falls over London. There is the still the 'super' and 'natural', about Fobbing Creek. More so now perhaps; because it's gone.

Champions get ready to have a ball for hospice

COMMUNITY champions for Little Havens Hospice are gearing up for a fundraising ball.

Sarah De Cristofano, 44, from Rayleigh, Darren Cooper, from Ingatstone and Derek Briggs, from Wickford, are hospice volunteers who visit schools, organisations and businesses in Essex to talk about the care provided by the charity, share stories and attend events, but this is the first time they have organised their own event.

The Little Havens Community Ball will highlight the role the community plays in supporting the hospice, enabling it to provide care to seriously ill babies, children and teenagers.

Sarah has been a community champion since 2013. Her daughter Lili, 15, visits Little Havens for respite breaks because she has fucosidosis, a progressive, incurable illness.

"We've planned for the night to be great fun and are sure all our guests will be looking glam. The ball is taking place at a lovely venue, with live entertainment and great music so we'll all be dancing the night away," Sarah added.

Darren started volunteering in 2013 after his son, Louis, 10, was cared for there in 2006 before he died.

He organises his own events including charity golf days, and said: "We're all very excited to have pooled resources to organise what we hope will be a brilliant event in support of Little Havens."

The ball is at Pontlands Park Country Hotel, Chelmsford, on Saturday, October 17, from 6pm to midnight, with dinner at 7pm.

Black tie is preferred. Tickets cost £50 per person (tables of 10).

To purchase tickets call 01702 220305 or visit www.littlehavenshospice.org.uk/

HEROIC officers and members of the public have been recognised for their bravery at an awards ceremony where Essex Chief Constable Stephen Kavanagh presented commendations.

PCSO Brett Fleming and PC Richard Barker saved a man's life in Finchfield, near Braintree. The officers, part of the Tour de France policing operation, saw a collapsed man by the road and gave him CPR until paramedics arrived.

The man they resuscitated, Dr Hildrey, watched with his wife as the officers received their awards.

Detective Sergeant Danny Walker was commended for his work on a money-laundering investigation that resulted in two people receiving sentences totalling eight years.

Sgt Hayley Rook, PC Lea Keene, PCSO Sarah Hardy and PC Cassandra Shilling were recognised for their action, dedication and professionalism helping to save the life of a man in Maldon. They were helped by Mark Craven and Debbie Dale.

PC Alan Conran was recognised for his efforts to resuscitate a five-month-old baby who had suffered a cardiac arrest.

PCSO Allan Barley was commended for his commitment, dedication and professionalism bringing a man to safety from the River Wid.

He remained with the man, providing support and reassurance until paramedics arrived.

Detective Chief Inspector Simon Werrett and Detective Sergeant Shirley Cole were praised for their involvement in a child exploitation investigation that resulted in two men receiving substantial sentences.

Sgt Arin Andrews, PC Matt Noone and PC Alison Baker were commended for their bravery dealing with a distressed man with a rifle. The man was arrested and no one was hurt.

Detective Constables Paula Bradley, Jo Mangham and Dave Brooks received commendations for their role in an investigation, which led to the conviction of a dangerous sex offender.

PC Jasmin Keable was off-duty when she gave CPR to a woman who had stopped breathing until paramedics arrived. Sadly, the woman died.

Dean Cook was presented with the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane Society award for his part in a rescue off Blackpool. Mr Cook, from Canvey, was on the beach when he saw a woman struggling in the water. He dived into the sea and brought her to safety. Mr Cook learnt of his award after an appeal to find him by police.

Mr Kavanagh said: "Leadership, courage and decency is not measured by rank - it's measured by what these remarkable men and women have done here today."

Peer set to fight allegations of expenses fraud

By Charles Thomson

southend@yellowad.co.uk

LORD HANNINGFIELD will be charged with false accounting, over allegations he visited the House of Lords for short periods of time in order to claim a daily allowance.

The former Essex County Council leader, 75, has been summonsed to appear at Westminster Magistrates' Court later this month.

He will face one charge, which alleges he claimed an allowance on 11 days in July 2013 when he should not have done.

The charge states: "Paul Edward Winston White, aka Lord Hanningfield, on or about 30th July 2013, in furnishing information for the purpose of making a daily allowance claim dishonestly and with a view to gain for himself or with intent to cause loss to another, produced or made use of a document required for an accounting purpose, namely a daily allowance and/or travel expenses claim form used by the House of Lords finance department to determine allowances and expenses due to him, which to his knowledge was or may have been misleading, false or deceptive in a material particular, in that it purported to show that he was entitled to be paid a daily allowance... when the conditions entitling him to such payments had not been fulfilled."

A CPS spokesman said: "The CPS has issued a written

charge and requisition to Paul White, known as Lord Hanningfield, with one charge of false accounting in relation to claims for daily allowance at the House of Lords."

Lord Hanningfield's solicitor Daniel Godden, of the Hodge,

Jones and Allen legal practice, said: "We will be fighting this charge all the way. My client is very disappointed that the CPS is pursuing any offence in respect of his claims for expenses. We will fight to have our client acquitted."

Concert pianist's recital

SCOUTS, Cubs and Beavers from the 4th Rochford troop, with their leaders, took donations of food to the annual harvest festival service at St Andrews the weekend.

The youngster assembled for their annual parade in the grounds of the church bearing traditional donations of food, tins jars, and fresh produce.

The Venerable Min: Smallman Archdeaconess of Southend, conducted the service.

And she even chose one of the Rochford scouts, Connor Moss, to wear her beautiful robe and parade it through the church, as he was tall enough to show it off to its full effect.

"It was an enjoyable service and the troop enjoyed the occasion," said helper Lyn Smee.

THE Best Years of Our Lives 40th anniversary tour will see original Cockney Rebel leader, Steve Harley, reuniting with other surviving band members from that seminal album.

The tour, which kicks off in Manchester on November 2 and includes an appearance at Southend's Palace Theatre on Thursday, November 5, will see Jim Cregan, Stuart Elliott and Duncan Mackay playing together with Harley for the first time since 1976.

Released in March 1975, the album contained the monster hits Make Me Smile (Come Up And See Me) and Mr. Raffles (Man, It Was Mean) and for many marked the true arrival of Harley as a songwriter of true verve and sophistication.

Harley said: "The three guys are still my mates. The fun we had back then, when we toured and recorded together, holds fabulous and special memories. I take life on the road a lot more seriously now, though, so they'd better be prepared."

"I'm thrilled to think they'll be up there on the great UK concert hall stages with me once again."

Guitarist Cregan, who left Harley's band to join Rod Stewart, and still writes songs with Stewart today with Brighton Beach being a recent Cregan/Stewart release. Elliott has played with Kate Bush, Paul McCartney and Al

HE'S A REBEL: Steve Harley is back on the road with Cockney Rebel

Stewart and has long been considered one of London's most sought-after session drummers. Keyboard player, Mackay, left Harley to join 10CC and has since continued his musical career in Cape Town, South Africa.

They will be joined by long-standing Cockney Rebel member Barry Wickens on violin and guitar, as well as young Austrian musicians, twins Lisa and Mona Wagner. As well as playing second lead guitar and percussion respectively, the MonaLisa Twins will also have their own spot during the concert, performing some of their own songs.

The shows will comprise two sets. One will be The Best Years of Our Lives album in its entirety, for the first time ever, including a few B-sides and out-takes of the period. The shows' opening set will be comprised of tracks chosen by a fans' poll, via Harley's website and social media.

Over at Southend's Cliffs Pavilion this week there will be a chance to see Champions of Rock, the supreme Queen and Meat Loaf tribute show that is rocking the nation.

The critically-acclaimed stage show, which will be at the theatre on Friday, October 9, celebrates the two legendary artists with live performances.

Forty years ago Freddie Mercury and his band Queen had been gigging at relatively obscure venues like the Paddocks in Canvey Island – a far cry from the release of a number one single, Bohemian Rhapsody, that was about to turn them into a supergroup.

Blunt at the sharp end

HEART: Emily Blunt

SICARIO (15, 121 mins)

FRENCH-Canadian filmmaker Denis Villeneuve made an impressive English language debut in 2013 with the nihilistic thriller Prisoners.

Before he takes charge of the sequel to Blade Runner, the talented director dazzles with this edge-of-seat assault on unbitten nails, glimpsing America's war on drugs through the eyes of a ballsy FBI agent, who is naive about the full extent of her government's covert activities.

Sicario, which translates as hitman in Spanish, is tautly paced and expertly scripted by Taylor Sheridan, who side-steps glib solutions to a complex global epidemic.

Instead, he skillfully weaves together sinewy subplots involving morally flawed characters on both sides of the Mexican border, building up a richly detailed picture of the blurred lines between authorities and the traffickers.

Desperation drips like rivulets of sweat from every expertly crafted frame and Villeneuve heightens our discomfort with thrillingly orchestrated action set pieces including a mesmerising finale that exposes sins under the cover of darkness using night vision and thermal imaging cameras.

At the blackened heart of the film is a tour-de-force performance from British actress Emily Blunt, whose steely-nerved heroine might have to sacrifice more than her idealism in the crucible of machismo and political double-dealing.

She plays Kate Macer, part of the FBI's Special Weapons and Tactics team, who are at the forefront of the war against drugs on American soil.

Flanked by her partner Reggie Wayne (Daniel Kaluuya), Kate storms a safe house and uncovers dozens of rotting corpses.

Soon after, a government agent named Matt Graver (Josh Brolin) asks Kate to join his top-secret task force, which intends to cripple the cartel fronted by Rafael (Raoul Trujillo) from the top down.

Haunted by the loss of men under her command, Kate willingly signs up and she heads to El Paso for her briefing, where she learns that she will be venturing onto Mexican soil.

"What's our objective?" asks Kate.

"To dramatically overreact," tartly replies Matt.

A Colombian former prosecutor (Benicio Del Toro) with a personal vendetta joins the task force.

Bullets fly and Kate's conscience is spattered in blood as she witnesses first-hand shocking brutality in violation of the laws she vowed to uphold.

Sicario gradually tightens the screws on frayed nerves, reaching a crescendo with the extraction of an informant from Ciudad Juarez.

"Keep an eye out for the state police. They're not always the good guys," one of the characters tells Kate, stoking her paranoia and ours.

Blunt is terrific in a physically and emotionally demanding role, clashing with Brolin's cold and pragmatic leader, who believes the means always justify an end that is favourable to US interests.

Johann Johansson's atmospheric soundtrack pants and growls like a caged beast, creating a furious tempo that Villeneuve matches with flourishes of directorial brio.

Released: October 8
RATING: 8.5/10

Champions rule the Palace

In 1975 the ground-breaking record hurtled to the top of the UK singles charts, enjoying 14 weeks at number one and going triple platinum in the UK and quadruple platinum in the USA.

Champions of Rock celebrates the song's 40th anniversary with an extra special concert show that recreates the time when Queen reigned supreme.

As well as including Queen hit singles such as We Are The Champions, We Will Rock You, A Kind of Magic, Crazy Little Thing Called Love, I Want to Break Free, Somebody to Love, Another One Bites the Dust and, of course, Bohemian Rhapsody, the show also features the UK's number one Meat Loaf revue.

Special guest Terry Nash adds to the stage spectacle with breath-taking performances of Bat Out of Hell, Dead Ringer For

Love and I'd Do Anything For Love (But I Won't Do That).

Show promoter Michael Taylor, of Haddleigh-based Easy Theatres, says that Bohemian Rhapsody will climax an evening of hit songs from two legendary artists celebrated for their live performances.

"It will be an unforgettable night that superbly recreates the fun, musicianship and showmanship of Queen's famed live performances," he says.

"It's a chance to join the ultimate musical journey through the decades."

Museum keeps airport's legacy alive

STEP into a former aircraft hanger in Kent and discover a fantastic collection of artefacts and photos helping to keep the history of RAF Manston alive.

While the deceiving exterior of RAF Manston History Museum in Ramsgate may have you thinking you will be in and out quite quickly, its collection is in fact astonishing.

The museum is, frankly, a Tardis containing everything about the airfield's history, from its early days in the First World War up to its time as an international airport whisking those first package holidaymakers off to sunnier climes.

Wander along its corridors and landings and take in every space that has been filled with photos, memorabilia and artefacts.

Gaze, read and soak up the information surrounding you and you can easily see a couple of hours pass by, all for just £2 entry.

From those who fought in the Battle of Britain, to those who worked at the airfield, everyone associated with RAF Manston is remembered at the museum, which is a credit to the volunteers that run it. But the museum does not just look at events that have taken place at the airfield, it also looks at how the area of Thanet was affected by the war, particularly from the air. With mock-up scenarios of how residents lived during the war, from a kitchen scene to the reference to the wartime Pig Club that would have supplemented the rationing of meat, it's a great place for children to get an insight to life at the time.

During the First World War aircraft used the open farmland of Manston as a site for emergency landings, and it was firmly on the front line from September 1939 and the outbreak of the Second World War. During the Battle of Britain the airfield was heavily bombed and littered with unexploded bombs.

During the Cold War in the 1950s Manston was used by the United States Air Force as a base for fighter and fighter-bomber units and became a joint civilian and RAF airport from 1960.

The museum's collection includes a DHC Chipmunk, an English Electric Lightning, a Sepecat Jaguar, a Buccaneer, a Wessex search and rescue helicopter, and a replica military truck used in the film Warhorse.

While a visit to RAF Manston

COLLECTION: Aircraft on display at RAF Manston History Museum

History Museum is well worth the drive in itself, just across its car park is an added bonus – the Spitfire and Hurricane Memorial Museum.

This museum, which is free to enter but welcomes donations, houses two iconic RAF planes of the Second World War.

Its Supermarine Spitfire MK XVI, one of the few surviving Spitfires with a wartime record, and a Hawker Hurricane IIC, one of only two surviving gate-guardians in the country having previously stood outside RAF Bentley Priory for nearly 30 years. Both planes are surrounded by artefacts from the war, including the possessions, uniforms and stories of the airmen who fought in them.

Alongside all this you can relax in the Merlin Café or on seating outside and take in views of Manston airfield, looking across towards the control tower and its motionless radar installations.

PINING FOR THE FJORDS

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

BREATHTAKING scenery, panoramic views and stunning valleys awaited us as we embarked on a Fjordland cruise on the magnificent Magellan.

The flagship of Cruise & Maritime Voyages, which joined its fleet earlier this year, set off from its home port, London Tilbury, for a six-night voyage to Norway on August 28.

After settling into our spacious and relaxing cabin on the adult-only vessel it was time to explore what Magellan had to offer, and we were in for a treat.

At 46,052 tonnes and a capacity for 1,250 people she offers passengers everything they could possibly want or need.

With both open air and lounge bars, panoramic windows for scenic cruising, a multi-tiered show lounge offering lively entertainment, a cabaret room with live music and comedy, a jazz bar, its own night-club and casino, two pools and three hot tubs, a well-equipped gym and The Jade Wellness Centre offering pampering spa treatments in a luxurious setting, we were spoilt for choice during our cruise.

After pre-dinner drinks in Sinatra's Lounge Bar, it was time to enjoy our first meal aboard the Magellan in its stylish Kensington Restaurant, where we were treated to a choice of outstanding dishes including pan-fried sea bream, stuffed chicken breast and pork escalope, accompanied by a recommended wine list.

As well as the Kensington, Magellan also has the Waldorf Restaurant, with equally mouth-watering cuisine, and The Lido Grill which has buffet meals and transforms into the Seaview Bistro at night.

By Sunday – day three of our cruise – we arrived at Eidfjord to absorb the breathtaking scenery of the Hardangerfjord, the fourth longest fjord in the world and the second longest in Norway.

While this was an awe-inspiring sight, a visit to the Fossli Hotel to view the Vøringsfoss waterfall – the most famous and spectacular in Norway – later in the day, added to a journey we will never forget.

That evening Magellan set sail for Flåm and by morning we pulled on comfortable walking shoes and waterproof jackets to climb aboard the famous Flåm Railway, which attracts people from all corners of the world.

The railway, which passes through tunnels and climbs to a height of 2,660ft, is one of Norway's major and most spectacular tourist attractions and it was easy to see why.

Situated between towering mountains it offered outstanding views down the steep-sided Flåm Valley.

By day five of our cruise we had arrived in Bergen which, according to Disney, was one of the inspirations behind the hit film Frozen.

It was easy to see why the film based its town "Arendelle" on the beautiful, colourful and charming city which is surrounded by seven hills and seven fjords.

We were introduced to Bergen with a tour past the old part of Bryggen and the harbour, before boarding the funicular and travelling to the top of Mount Fløien where we were met with spectacular views of the city and of Magellan alongside the pier below.

Having seen so many wonders of Norway it was time to set sail on our journey back to Tilbury, which included a full, relaxing and enjoyable day at sea before arriving back on the Essex coast.

With 726 cabins spanning nine passenger decks, Magellan may be larger than its sister ships but it still retains an intimate environment compared to larger cruise ships.

It offers traditional style and a personal service which have always been enjoyed by the lines' loyal customers and its schedule of cruises will take passengers to everywhere from the Northern Lights and St Petersburg, to Amsterdam and Madeira.

This winter she will sail to warmer climes including the West Indies, before spending Christmas and New Year in the Canaries and setting sail on an epic 42-night voyage to the Amazon.

Maharaja spices up Halloween

Advertisement feature

THIS Halloween why not get spooky at The Maharaja, at 358 London Road, Benfleet, for a taste of the autumnal 1 gosht curry, a mouthwatering melt-in-the-mouth lamb and pumpkin curry, served at the buffet to get your tastes buds tingling on Friday and Saturday, October 30 and 31.

Dress up a fright and party the night away on the dance floor in ghoulish fashion from Thursday to Saturday with a resident DJ and have the chance to win a free meal too.

Simply wear your spookiest Halloween costume, tag your pictures #MaharajaEssex on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, and the best outfit selected by the Maharaja team wins.

With a new a la carte menu, there is tasty options for all, from delicious meat dishes including lip-smacking tandoori lamb chops, to lean vegetarian options including juicy stuffed Portobello mushroom with saag and paneer, mild but full of flavour.

For Halloween it can't get more devilish than the naga raj kebab, a "hotter than hot" kebab set to send you to the dark side.

With specials including "Four for Three on Any Drinks" and "Earlybird Offers", there's something for everyone at The Maharaja.

Voted one of the top 10 Best in the South East at The Curry Awards several times, the Maharaja is warm and welcoming, offering delicious food in opulent surroundings, with chandeliers dripping from reflectively ceilings and an intricately designed private dining room that's fit for a Queen.

With 200 seats including a glittering private Maharani dining room that seats 10-12 people, a "million-colour" dance floor, a vast buffet bar, group seating, disabled access and quieter seating options for couples, the Maharaja can cater for all your special events, big or small, whether it's a charity night, a birthday do, a hen party or a romantic dinner for two.

The restaurant's chef is also happy to create a dish of your choice upon request if it is not on the menu.

So, why not plan your festive party using the M a h a r a j a Christmas and Festive menus and dance the night away on the spectacular dance floor?

Ask the Agent

Alan Kirkman

Q. Why do property transactions still take so long to complete?

A. Actually, the good news is that this year average transaction times have started to come down again from the levels they reached during the years immediately following the property crash.

Nevertheless, it may seem odd that in these days of the internet, transactions are still taking something in the region of 8-9 weeks to complete – particularly since, once a sale has been put in hand, you would have thought it would be in everyone's interests to progress things as quickly as possible, while all parties are totally focused on the outcome. Basically, the longer things take, the greater the danger of something going wrong, or someone just changing their mind. And speaking as an estate agent, there is nothing more frustrating than watching while a sale that you have worked hard to put together just drags on and on – or worst of all, collapses altogether.

And that, I suppose, is the nub of the issue – because as a general rule, most of the delays afflicting property transactions happen once a sale has actually been agreed!

As usual, it's a combination of things –

Alan Kirkman is a Director of both Tudor Estates in Southend and Essex TEAM part of a network of independently owned estate agents who share their instructions for the benefit of giving their client properties maximum market exposure. Alan has been an estate agent for over 32 years.

although they tend to have their roots in the aftermath of the property crash. So, for example, there are actually fewer practising conveyancers around these days. Moreover, those conveyancers that remain are often so concerned about the risk of litigation that issues which a few years ago would have been more or less waved through are now being gone through with the very finest of tooth combs.

The same is true of mortgage offers. The relative shortage of surveyors mean that it can now take significantly longer for a lender to arrange a valuation. Add to that the extreme cautiousness towards lending brought about in the wake of the Mortgage Market Review, and the net result is that it can now take several weeks to get a mortgage offer.

One more thing. Local Authority searches are taking longer due to cut backs with fewer staff struggling with more searches now that the market is recovering. These potential delays can be short circuited by instructing your solicitor to apply well in advance. This may mean paying upfront, but a few hundred pounds invested early could save many thousands more in wasted fees if the transaction would otherwise fail or be delayed – not to mention the stress and potential heartache.

One of the best Suzuki models going

By Ian Johnson

THOSE masters of the small car at Suzuki realigned the range and one of the smart choices is the Celerio.

Built in Thailand, the Celerio embodies many of the qualities that have seen Suzuki sales rise in recent times, including ease of driving, an elevated driving position, interior space that surpasses expectations and a surprisingly good luggage capacity.

In fact it offers a degree of the qualities of a SUV without the usually massive expense and size.

The Celerio is a compact crossover and its initial 1.0 three-cylinder petrol engine is now joined by a Dualjet version of the same engine, which returns a staggering combined economy figure of 78.4mpg and a very low CO2 figure of 84g/km.

This version costs £8,499 and is very well equipped with six airbags and ESP fitted as standard safety equipment for both UK models.

Strong residual values of 39 per cent at three years/60,000 miles are forecast by Glass's Guide this month.

On the road this version may not be the fastest set of wheels in the garage, but its top speed of 96mph and 0-62mph sprint should be enough to satisfy the customer who has an eye to economy as well as performance.

And the fact that the fuel gauge does not seem to want to move is a major plus point too.

In everyday driving I was getting at least 69mpg which was impressive to say the least.

It is surprisingly comfortable with an elevated driving position that takes much stress out of long trips.

Its three-cylinder engine is reasonably silent but it does work hard.

The real beauty of this car is its ease of operation in cities where total length of just 3,600mm and neat turning circle make it a doddle to park.

It is also extremely roomy for a small car with best-in-class boot space of 254 litres.

Even the basic model includes air conditioning, alloy wheels DAB radio, CD tuner plus Bluetooth and USB connectivity.

It competes against cars like the VW Up! and Skoda Citigo and how it fares remains to be seen.

It is certainly one of the best models I have seen from Suzuki in recent times.

This is Suzuki's first big throw at producing a modern global city car with wide appeal and its neat clean cut lines and balance of compact dimension with interior space promise a healthy future.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
 Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
 All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
 The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies.

However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

HAMMERS PULL BACK FOR DRAW

West Ham

Sunderland 2 West Ham United 2
Brian Jeeves reporting from the Stadium of Light

WEST HAM UNITED'S unbeaten Barclays Premier League away run continued after goals from Carl Jenkinson and Dimitri Payet helped the Hammers dramatically claw back a two-goal deficit to grab a point.

Sunderland had endured a torrid start to their campaign. The rock-bottom Black Cats had failed to register a victory in their opening seven league games with manager Dick Advocaat seemingly a man under pressure.

In the build-up to the game the Dutchman was somewhat coy about his immediate future, stating: "What will happen on Sunday or a week on Sunday or nine months after Sunday, then I will tell you the real story, but now I'm still here and nothing has changed."

Less than 24 hours later the club announced his departure with immediate effect.

West Ham arrived in the North East eyeing their fourth successive league victory on the road. But despite their impressive start, boss Slaven Bilic was wary of the Hammers struggling opponents, saying: "This is a more difficult game because now everybody around us is expecting us to win this game. That can put us in a difficult situation where we are too relaxed, or are not aware enough. If that happens, then we are in trouble, but if we play like we did in the previous away games we have a massive chance to win."

Perhaps with the Black Cats' current plight in mind, a nervousness took hold of those in the stands.

However, after 10 minutes the gloom lifted. Darren Fletcher reacted the quickest to Yann M'Vila's low centre and swept a left foot drive beyond Hammers goalkeeper Adrian from 12 yards. Seconds later the home side should have doubled their advantage when Fabio Borini fired into the side netting after finding space among the disheveled visitors' rearguard.

Shaky West Ham were clearly rattled by the home side's lightning start and Sunderland seized on their opportunity. Winston Reid was caught out by the quick thinking of M'Vila and Jermain Lens profited by beating Adrian with an exquisite chip to double the lead.

The Hammers were struggling to find any rhythm. Diafra Sakho flashed high and wide after Aaron Cresswell had delivered. Meanwhile West Ham received a huge let-off when Borini slotted the wrong side of an upright with just Adrian to beat. Minutes later, the Italian front-man went even closer, but again his effort drifted the wrong side of the woodwork.

West Ham desperately needed a foothold and just before the break it arrived through an unlikely source.

Defender Jenkinson ghosted in at the far post to side-foot past Costel Pantilimon after Victor Moses had crafted the opening from the left flank.

The edginess once again had taken hold of the home fans. Payet sent a dead-ball attempt into the grateful Pantilimon's gloves, while Manuel Lanzini had the Romanian keeper scurrying across his goal as the Hammers started the second period brightly. The home side's plight became more acute when goalscorer Lens received a second yellow card for a lunge on Reid.

West Ham immediately upped the tempo, and on the hour mark drew level. The usually reliable Pantilimon dropped Lanzini's shot and Payet was on hand to fire low into the corner of the net.

The Hammers appeared to be in the ascendancy and were now asking the sterner questions. Substitute Mauro Zarate picked out Sakho, but the Senegalese striker could not direct his effort goalwards, while Nikica Jelavic's late header was wayward after Payet had picked him out.

After the game, Hammers boss Bilic displayed mixed emotions, stating: "First of all it was a good game again, four goals, chances, everything. It was quality from both sides. "If you had asked me yesterday if I would be happy with the point, with the greatest respect to Sunderland, I wouldn't take a point before the game. But when you are 2-0 down with them having two chances to score the third one, you've got to be happy with the point, and also it is an away game.

"It's a good run for us. On the other hand I can't be happy with the players. I will defend them all day long all my life, but we can't afford to make those kind of mistakes or sloppy starts."

Bilic continued: "We can talk about a great reaction, great determination, great spirit, great quality in the second half, but it should be from the start. These basic things, I'm nowhere near being OK with that kind of thing."

Despite speculation that Advocaat was taking charge of his last game, the Sunderland chief was in good spirits, saying: "The way we played today was very positive for everybody, there was no player who was not in the game. We showed the commitment which you need in football. It was a joy to watch."

West Ham will look to continue their good form when they visit Selhurst Park to face in-form Crystal Palace on Saturday, October 17, kick-off 3pm.

Non-league round-up

Dockers put on late show

By Brian Jeeves

TILBURY plundered five goals in the final 17 minutes to send Barkingside spinning out of the FA Trophy at Chadfields.

The Dockers found 'Side difficult to break down for much of this Preliminary round tie, but once Harry Cook grabbed a 73rd minute opener the floodgates opened. Daniel Glozier (penalty), Emiel Aiken and a brace from Anthony Martin saw the hosts run out emphatic winners.

Thurrock also made progress seeing off Guernsey 2-0, but there was little to cheer about from the region's other clubs. Redbridge earned a replay following a 1-1 draw at Arlesley Town, but it was a series of defeats elsewhere.

Maldon & Tiptree went down by the odd goal in five at home to Ramsgate, and it was also the end of the Wembley dream for Great Wakering Rovers who crashed 3-0 at Royston Town. It was a miserable day for Aveley who were beaten 4-1 by South Park at Mill Field.

In the National League, Braintree Town returned to winning ways after seeing off Eastleigh 2-0. Kenny Davis opened the scoring for the Iron from the penalty spot, then Michael Cheek ensured the points headed back to Essex. Braintree are sixth in the table, just four points behind leaders Forest Green Rovers.

It was a frustrating afternoon for our National South clubs. Concord Rangers were held to a goalless draw at Eastbourne Borough, while Chelmsford City were thumped 4-0 by Oxford City at the Melbourne Stadium, with all the visitors goals coming after the break.

Tambeson Eyong scored the only goal as Canvey Island won their Essex derby with Brentwood Town at Park Lane.

Sam Higgins and Ryan Scott scored in each half as East Thurrock United played out an exciting 2-2 draw at Merstham but there were defeats for Billericay Town, 3-2 against Staines Town at New Lodge, and Grays Athletic, who despite a Roman Michael-Percil strike, lost their Friday night game with Kingstonian 3-1.

Essex Senior League leaders Bowers & Pitsea continued to set the pace with a 3-1 win over Barking at the Len Salmon Stadium. Chris Bryan scored twice and Tom Hine added another for unbeaten Bowers.

Burnham Ramblers were also among the goals, thrashing Wadhams Lodge 4-1 at Leslie Field. Hullbridge Sports had to settle for a point from their hard fought clash with London Bari, the eventual outcome was a goalless draw.

Several ESL clubs were involved in FA Vase action. Ilford won 3-2 at Woodbridge Town, while Basildon United also made progress, winning by a single goal at Wivenhoe Town. Stephen Solarin grabbed a second half equaliser as Southend Manor and Hadley drew 1-1 at Southchurch Park Arena.

Selected action in the ProKit UK Essex Olympian League Division One saw Reece Conway and Alex Smith hit the target as Basildon Town saw off Toby 2-0, while goal-crazy Runwell Hospital hammered Canning Town 7-1.

Saxons' winning run grinds to a halt as Titans prove too powerful

Rugby

Southend Saxons 19
Taunton Titans 34
By Alan Grace

SOUTHEND Saxons' good start to the season was brought to an abrupt halt on Saturday by National 2 South leaders Taunton Titans.

They were overcome in the second half by their powerful, smart opponents who kept up their five-points a game haul with their fourth try of the game in the final seconds.

Southend started brightly with full-back Iain Meads finishing off a sprightly exchange of passes along the backs after one of the forwards' few successful line-outs.

Brad Burr converted the try for an early 7-0 lead.

Taunton's clever play brought them two penalty kicks in front of the posts bringing the score to 7-6 after 23 minutes.

The penalty count continued to mount denying Southend the little possession they were able to gain, so it was a bit of a surprise when they were awarded a penalty of their own and were able to win another line-out. Again the ball was moved smartly along the backs to the supporting Meads whose great running line took him through the Taunton defence for his second try.

Burr missed the conversion but the score moved away again to 12-6.

Taunton continued to attack, forcing Southend to defend and to continue to give away penalties but their dogged defence was finally broken when Titans winger Nick May raced down the wing to score. This took the score to 12-11 where it stayed until half-time.

Southend supporters were pleased with the way their new look side were keeping the lead but frustrated with the wasted possession just when the team threatened to add to their score.

Their wastefulness was punished in the first 15 minutes of the second half when Taunton ran in a converted try, courtesy of two missed tackles, a penalty and a drop goal moving the score to 12-24.

Southend were shell-shocked but kept to their task managing at last to keep possession and moving into Taunton territory. Burr chipped delicately over the top of the defence for either Chris Vaughan and Sonny Gay to run onto. Vaughan got there first and touched down. Burr's conversion brought Southend back into contention at 19-24.

It was not to last long as almost from the kick-off replacement Lewis Webb broke through several tackles and scored to make it 19-29.

Taunton were now after a bonus point and attacked, forcing Southend into more errors and penalties.

Despite their best efforts they were unable to stop winger Jack Clayton's charge over the line in the last move of the game taking the final score to 19-34 and leaving the Saxons with nothing to show for their afternoon's work.

With close ties to Aviva Premiership side Exeter, Taunton were able to field a number of dual-registered players, so Southend must take that into account when dissecting the game. They will not meet many sides as professional as Taunton this season. They remain in ninth position and are away to Worthing next week.

Flat Roofing Guaranteed for Life

High-Tech Roofing have installed and guaranteed over 8,000 domestic projects – every roof we install comes complete with a LIFETIME guarantee, to give you absolute peace of mind.

Over 70% of homes in the UK have a flat roof incorporating a mineral felt finish – that's seven out of ten home owners with a potential flat roof problem...

Mineral felt is prone to a slow breakdown, often allowing water ingress to cause unnecessary problems before being visibly detected within the home. Mineral felt has tendency to blister throughout summer months and eventually becomes brittle and cracks during colder periods. Cracking will also appear around the exposed edges and other points of detail, e.g. around pipes, skylights, flashings into brickwork or under tiles, etc. These areas are where workmanship is most crucial. Felt also attracts moss and algae, further degrading the roof surface.

It is important every homeowner carefully checks their insurance policy. In our experience, a flat roof over ten years and leaking may not be covered by the homeowner's insurance policy. When making a claim, we understand that unless it is proven storm damage causing a flat roof to leak the damage could be seen as wear and tear or poor workmanship; this will leave the homeowner with the financial burden not only for external but also for internal repairs.

In 1999, High-Tech Roofing first introduced the most advanced flat roof technology to the homeowner. Protan, based in Norway, has a pedigree in the design and manufacture of waterproofing materials dating back to 1939, and producing the first roofing membrane in 1971. Protan is our preferred PVC single-ply flat roofing system. Protan will cope with all climates, as millions of square meters are installed here and abroad with a proven track record stretching over four decades. Protan is predominantly an architect-specified roofing system, winning many awards and serving the very competitive commercial sector.

High-Tech has installed and proudly guarantees, over 8000 flat roof installations throughout Essex, Kent and London regions.

A High-Tech roof is dimensionally stable and solar reflective, it is unaffected by climate change and 100% resistant to moss and algae. As it is vapour permeable, it can never blister or become brittle and crack. We will create an anti-slip 100% storm resistant watertight roof-maintenance free and guaranteed never to leak.
